4TH LIBERA YOUTH MEETING

People have the power!

24-29 July 2013
Marsala (TP), Sicily

The Libera youth meeting is a well established summer camp, with a large participation of young people coming from all around Italy.

This year, it's a pleasure to announce the possibility to participate to the camp for young people coming from all European Countries.

The initiative, titled "Ole - People Have the Power", will host meetings and seminars scheduled by the project of the European Commission "Tackling Illegal Economy", an international project aimed at developing knowledge and tools for the fight to organised crime, improving networking between civil society and institutions, as well as promoting best practices on confiscation and recovery of the proceeds of crime.

WHY PARTECIPATING: Participating to the camp represents a unique occasion to enjoy educational and cultural activities focused on fight and prevention of organized crime through seminars, lessons, and exchange of contents. Furthermore, the camp is a meaningful occasion for young people to meet experts and international associations and meet themselves, to acquire knowledge on local and global scenarios and share best practices to report in their home countries.

MAIN THEMES: "People Have the Power" meeting will investigate the role of civil society and participation, together with the improvement of networks and relations among society and institutions, as powerful tools to fight mafias. Among others, relevant session topics will be: organized crime; mafia and politics; confiscation and recovery of criminal assets; EU legal framework and policies; analysis and investigations of practices and strategies for the fight against mafias.

WHEN: The meeting will start during the afternoon of July 24th and will end on July the 29th.

WHERE: The meeting will take place in Villa Genna, Marsala, in Contrada Spagnola.

HOW TO ARRIVE: The city and the camp are quite close to the Trapani-Birgi Airport. A shuttle-bus service will be provided to join the camp.

COSTS: The participation to the whole camp costs 70 €. The cost comprehends all the camping services, restoration (since the dinner of July 24th up to the breakfast of July 29th), gadget and materials for the activities. For whom who cannot participate to the whole camp, the cost of the participation is calculated deducting 10 € for each day with respect to the total cost of the camp (e.g. for participating since the 25th to the 29th the cost will be 60 €). All travel costs are in charge of participants. Each participant should bring his own tent.

INSCRIPTION: To participating send an email to tie@libera.it containing your full name, nationality and email address not later then the 15th of July.
